PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Insist on having Hood's. Get it now.

BONUSES

Can Be Given by National Banks Which Earn More Than Their Dividends.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—When national banks have earned more than their dividends the treasury department has no objection to their giving additional compensation in the form of "bonuses" or Christmas gifts to employees without receiving the sanction of shareholders.

This announcement was made Friday by Comptroller Williams in a letter to all national bank officials.

NEW PRICE CARD

For Window Glass Announced by the American Window Glass Company.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 1.—The American Window Glass Company Friday announced a new price card effective Saturday for all domestic and export business. It carries an advance of from twelve and one-half per cent to fifteen per cent on the various sizes and is made to apply to all grades of window glass. Increased demands because of improved building operations and the withdrawal of the Belgian factories from the international field, has created an unprecedented condition in the domestic factories.

REMOVAL OF THE BIG SMOKE IMPROVES FIGHT GAME; ALL CLASSES PROSPER

HEY, BUT THAT GUY'S LOOKING PRECIOUS LATELY!

BASEBALL AND OTHERS

"Rumor: Hark! It's the fight game has improved all through. Since J. Johnson has been chased away."

Since Jess Willard chased Jack Johnson from the fight game last April there has been a very considerable improvement in all classes of boxing. So long as the big smoke was king of the heaviest boxing activities seemed to languish, but now that a white champ reigns there is a new spirit in every class.

Attractive Reception.

Most attractive with its Christmas decorations was the 4 o'clock reception given by Mrs. Edward S. Wallis Thursday afternoon complimentary to Miss Geraldine Wallis and Miss Julia Davis who are home for the holidays. Crimson carnations and similar formed the centerpiece of the tea table, where tea and chocolate were served by Mrs. Wirt Lewis assisted by Mrs. William T. Wallis and Mrs. Edward F. Wehner. During the hours of the reception about fifty of the girls of the younger set called.

Invitations Issued.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Joseph Wetherell for a card party from 2 to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. The guests are asked to meet Mrs. Charles Farrer, of Parkersburg.

Pretty Luncheon.

A very pretty appointed 1 o'clock luncheon was given Friday by Miss Martha Jarvis complimentary to some of the girls of the younger set home from school. Christmas flowers obtained in the floral decorations of the table and covers were laid for Miss Elizabeth McCarty, Miss Columbia Maxwell, Miss Amelia Bennett, of Fairmont, Miss Jean Haynes, Miss Martha Maxwell, Miss Florence Hutchinson, of Fairmont, Miss Janet Robinson, Miss Elizabeth Duncan, and Miss Katherine Gray of East Orange, N. J.

For Visitor.

Complimentary to Miss Gretchen Spindler, of Columbus, O., who is a guest of Mrs. Charles W. Lynch, Misses Margaret and Francis Robinson entertained from 4 to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon at a tea the guest list including the college girls home.

it thought itself, had its share of fools. For the next two years he concentrated himself on the Dublin editors, whom he bombarded with stories and poems, and on whose foolishness he grew fat—for he got from them a minimum of three, and sometimes as much as five, and six dollars for each story he wrote. He was teaching his three-score mountain boys in the little school house during the greater part of each day, working in the fields the remainder of the day, and writing down the characters, and the stories, at length, calculating that as Dublin had proved itself more foolish than Donegal, the farther he got away from that hub of the earth, the foolisher still would he find people, he one day let loose his sixty scholars, turned the key in his school and threw it over the roof, packed a bag with manuscripts and a pair of trousers, and took steership passage for the green-goods man's paradise, America.

His many succeeding books—published here—his plentiful stories in all the well known magazines—his presence on the lecture platform, at most places between the four corners of America, prove that they who expect wisely, will not be disappointed. His home, however, is still in Donegal—the same little mountain village in which he was born and bred—among his kith and kin and all the old neighbors whom he has walking and talking through his books. But when he comes to America every winter, he meets, scattered East, West, North and South, young men who, still addressing him as "Master," learned their reading and writing and figuring and had spelling under his tuition. Like the ghosts of ill-deeds, the scholars whom he made or marred, rise up to confront him even in some of the most out-of-the-way places to which he travels. But these Donegal youths are built in generous and forgiving mold.

In his novel, "A Lad of the O'Ferrals," McManus gives a picture of the mountain youth who rises up to be schoolmaster—the life of this youth and the lives, likewise, of the kindly, humorous, generous and very, very quaint neighbors around him. His "In Chimney Corners" gives the folk tales that he used to hear by his father's fireside, and set down in the self-same way in which he heard them. His "Red Poacher" and dozen other books reflect various other phases of Irish life.

Attendance Urged.
Officers desire to have every member of the Agoda cadet class of the First Baptist church present Sunday morning. It is also asked that every member of the Kappa Sigma Pi make an effort to be in Sunday school in various churches Sunday morning. It is hoped to begin the new year by keeping vows and the organizations cannot help but grow and fill the place for which they were formed, that of helping and giving the boys a chance.

Attendants Named.
The following attendants have been named for the Cox-Jackson wedding which will be a brilliant event of the evening of January 4 at the Parkersburg Trinity Episcopal church: Matron of honor, Mrs. John Finlayson, of Tulsa, Okla.; maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Neal; bridesmaids, Miss Viola Elliott, Charleston; Miss Florence Jackson, Clarksburg; Miss Catherine Burns, Huntington, and Miss Phyllis Neal, of Parkersburg. Howard I. Hooker, of Cincinnati, will be Mr. Cox's best man and the ushers will be S. Elliott Palmer, Hiram, S. Mathers, Robert P. Wirth, of Cincinnati, and Charles S. Jackson, of Parkersburg. Master Walter Gerwig will be the ring bearer. The service will be performed by the Rev. S. Scollay Moore, rector of Trinity.

Assistants Announced.
Dr. John S. Stone, past exalted ruler, who will have charge of special initiation work at next Tuesday night's meeting of the Elks lodge, has announced the following assistants:
